THE AGGIE BAND

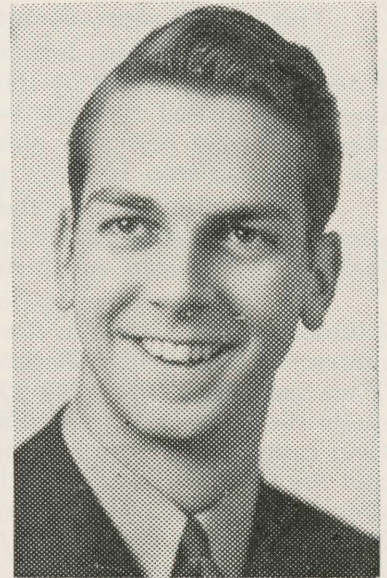

Colorado A & M College's green and gold uniformed band will make appearances this season at each home football game in addition to appearing at the games in Denver, Laramie, Wyo., and Golden.

Robert M. Barnes, a Colorado A & M College graduate, is conductor of the band. He is an assistant professor in the Music Department. James K. Campbell, a music major from Fort Collins, is the drum major. Robert Hill, Fort Collins, and Dale Wolfer, Denver, are field assistants. Morris J. Beachy, Omaha, Nebr., does the announcing for the band.

Besides appearing with the marching band, many of the members play in the regular ROTC band which is a part of the Military Department. During the winter quarter, this band presents concert programs and frequently conducts a spring tour over the state.

Assisting the band in field shows this year will be the a cappella choir, student pep organizations, and the Poudre Muskets, a volunteer crack drill team supervised by Major A. W. Gunn, staff member of the Aggie Military Department.

Miss Alice Ann McCarthy, a freshman from Denver, is the drum majorette. She is a former majorette for an American Legion musical organization in Denver.

THE GAME TODAY

This, by all signs, should be a humdinger of a football game.

Three signs alone, however, stand out: (1) will the Aggies be able to recover their spark after a 34-0 smashing defeat by those classy, drawlin' Cowpokes from Wyoming; (2) Brigham Young U's Cougars surprised everyone but themselves in tying Utah U. 28-28 last Saturday; and (3) BYU is not about to forget how they almost pulled the conference upset of 1949 before Aggies rallied late in the game and won 16-14.

Today's clash will be the 15th time that Aggie and Cougar have faced each other on the gridiron since the series started in 1922. It doesn't mean a thing that the Ags have won 10, BYU three and the 1940 contest ended in a 13-13 tie.

The Aggies can expect to meet an improved BYU ball club. Two months ago Coach "Chick" Atkinson said he stood to lose five of 11 starters for various reasons but had a lot of spirited sophomores. BYU took its first game this year in a bruising tussle with Idaho State College at Pocatello. They came from behind to clinch the game in the last minutes, 14-13. Bob Karpowitz' trusty toe made the difference. Then they ran into the Arizona State Sun Devils and their all-American backfield candidate, Whizzer White. Too much weight on the line tired the BYUs, White went to town and the Cougars finished on the short end of a 41-13 score. The "Y" considers Arizona State "probably the toughest club" they will encounter all year! (Editors Note: Colorado A & M vs. Arizona State at Tempe November 18; Wyoming at BYU November 11).

Then came the Utah U. contest. BYU held a comfortable lead. This was blasted after the half by the Utes who looked to stand for the day. A Ute fumble and a terrific last-minute touchdown drive pulled the Cougars into the tie and a great moral victory.

The Aggies had everything their own way in zipping through Denver and then smashing Colorado College. Things were bright in Aggieland. Then came Wyoming and a rash of fumbles that set the Ags back on their heels for one of their worst defeats in the past three years.

But you can't hand the game to anyone today on the basis of last week: what the Ags didn't do and what BYU did do.

BRIGHAM YOUNG COACHING STAFF

Charles "Chick" Atkinson, Head Football Coach

If the Brigham Young Cougars need inspiration for courage they need look no farther than their head coach, "Chick" Atkinson.

Last year he came to Brigham Young for his first year of collegiate coaching after an enviable record of 38 games won, 10 lost and one tied during six years as Pocatello high school mentor. He arrived late for spring practice and was unacquainted with his team until September. Then, with a light squad and the heaviest schedule in BYU history, he kept the Cougars battling, although they wound up in the cellar.

This year, still building his squad, he lost 14 lettermen and 14 other regulars to the armed services and LDS missions.

Undaunted, Atkinson still figures he is in the running and is building a sophomore machine that is likely to make trouble in the conference.

He attended Idaho State College and was graduated from the University of Idaho with B.S. and M.S. degrees. At Idaho State he participated in football, basketball and track, and at Idaho U. took a leading part in football, basketball and baseball.

All told, he copped 12 major athletic awards in four years of college.

Reed Nilsen, Football Line Coach

Hard-working Coach Nilsen is molding the Cougar line again this year, his second with "Chick" Atkinson. Reed is a product of Brigham Young University. He lettered three years here and was named all-conference center in 1946. He played in the East-West all-star game in San Francisco in 1947. Before his college days, he was an all-state fullback for Provo high school in his senior year.

After his student days, Reed took a fling at the play-for-pay game with the Detroit Lions, but resigned after one year to return to BYU as assistant coach.

Reed also serves as wrestling coach.

Robert "Bob" Bunker, End Coach

Popular for his sly smile, dry wit and friendliness, Coach Bunker rounds out the triumverate of mentors who took over the Cougars last year. He hails from Preston, Idaho, where he was a highly successful high school athletic coach from 1945 to 1949.

Utah State Agricultural College is his alma mater. There he earned two letters in basketball and three in football, serving as captain and all-conference end of Dick Romney's championship team of 1936.

BRIGHAM YOUNG UNIVERSITY

Brigham Young University is situated in Provo, Utah, a city of about 30,000, located 45 miles south of Salt Lake City. The 200-acre campus has at its back door the majestic Wasatch mountains. Upon one of these peaks, students have constructed a block "Y," the largest letter in the world.

The University was founded October 16, 1875, by Brigham Young, second president of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints (Mormon), great colonizer of the intermountain west. This is the school's 75th or diamond jubilee year and the game with Colorado A & M on Oct. 14, although away from home, will be a sort of opener for a colorful convocation week of parades, concerts, symposia and dedications of new buildings, among them the massive $2,000,000 Physical Sciences Building.

Religion is an important subject in the curriculum and every student is required to take at least two hours of religion every quarter. There is no denominational line on the campus. The school welcomes members of other churches, but everyone on the campus must abide by some L.D.S. regulations—no smoking, no drinking, no use of tea and coffee. Classes are conducted on the honor system, and instructors are even required to leave the room during examinations so that the system is given ample opportunity to operate.

The university awards bachelor and master degrees and is divided into these colleges: Graduate School, Applied Science, Arts and Sciences, Commerce, Fine Arts, Education, Division of Religion, Extension Division.

Dr. Ernest L. Wilkinson, a prominent Washington attorney, has been appointed president, effective January 1. Acting president is Dr. Christian Jensen, emeritus dean of graduate school and political science department.

BYU OUTLOOK

Pointing for upsets in 1950, that's BYU. Ranked by fellow conference coaches for cellar position this year, the Cougars are not following their advance billing too closely. Here's the way the Cougars themselves feel:

Brigham Young University has only one direction to go — UP!

Last year the Cougars wound up on the bottom of the conference heap, but if determination and spirit have anything to do with it (and they do) they won't be found there at the end of this season.

The Cats have high hopes of upsetting somebody's applecart regardless of these disturbing factors: Loss of fifteen lettermen through graduation and church missions, and loss of ten other regulars to the armed services.

Filling those cleated shoes will be a flock of promising sophomores, inexperienced but also full of possibilities. In addition, eleven lettermen will return who will give the squad considerable power.

Here's how Coach Atkinson sees it: "We still have a group of fighting, spirited football players, and definitely should not be counted as 'also ran!' This does mean, however, that we must depend largely upon inexperienced sophomores."

Inexperience means mistakes, and that is likely to be the story for B.Y.U. early in the season, but the Cats should improve as they go along. But with the mistakes may also come surprises. You never can tell about a sophomore.

There are 32 zeros in the experience column of the Y string and some of them in vital spots. Where experience counts most is at quarterback and here Atkinson is going with three sophs and a converted junior fullback. The tackle position is loaded with lettermen but the guard positions are weak on both sides, many of the men on whom "Chick" depends tipping the beam in the 180's.

WELCOME ALUMNI

W. E. Morgan

It's great to see you back for today's gala Homecoming celebration. Last year about this time I got my first look at the Aggie football squad and started meeting some of you Alums from throughout the state and nation. One year with you has presented convincing evidence that these A & M athletic teams and the Alumni have a lot in common, both have a great Aggie Spirit.

Speaking on behalf of the faculty, staff, and students of Colorado A & M College, it is a pleasure and a privilege to welcome you back to the campus.

THE FROSH GRIDDER

Wagner

Colorado A & M College freshmen gridgers got their teeth into a good game-condition scrimmage yesterday afternoon, preparing for a three-game schedule.

Coach Julius F. "Hans" Wagner at the opening of school found 110 frosh hopefuls reporting. Since then the squad has been cut to a more workable 68.

Some fair prospects have been showing on the training field. They'll get the acid test beginning October 21 when they meet the Wyoming freshmen, already touted by Cowboy fans as being one of the ruggedest crops of boys to come into the state for years. Then the Ag yearlings tangle with Colorado Mines freshmen October 28 followed by a November 3 game with Denver. Wyoming and Mines play at A & M while the DU game is in Denver.

Here are the A & M freshmen by positions:

AGGIE COACHES

Head Coach ROBERT L. (BOB) DAVIS in three years at Aggies has won 22, lost eight, and tied one emerging in 1949 with second in the conference for the second straight year.

Davis, 42, uses the "T" system of play and is a master in its employment.

He first played football on Salt Lake City high teams, then attended Utah U and played varsity three years under Ike Armstrong, now director of athletics at Minnesota University. Davis captained the Redskins in 1929, his senior year.

Davis has coached: South High, Salt Lake City, five years; Utah State, recreation director two years; Weber College, five years; Utah U, two years; Denver U, one year, before coming to Aggies in spring of 1947.

Backfield Coach ROBERT (BOB) SNEDDON halfbacked a season at St. Mary's before going into the Navy and shortly after discharge played pro ball with Washington Redskins and Los Angeles Dons.

Sneddon played prep ball at Ogden, Utah, and then went as an all-state tackle to Weber College where he was a pupil of Coach Davis. At Weber, Davis converted Sneddon into fullback in 1939-40 before the Aggie backfield coach went to St. Mary's.

He coached football and basketball at Washington high in Ogden in 1943 after discharge from the navy.

Line Coach MARK DUNCAN, Denver U graduate of 1941, was all-conference guard in football two years.

Duncan first line coached at Colorado College and in 1942 moved to head line coach at Denver U. In 1943 he took over basketball coaching and was acting head football coach that fall in addition to being physical training director for the Army Air Forces at DU. He went into service in 1944. He came out of the Army a sergeant, returned to coaching at Denver and then came to Aggies with Davis.

Assistant Line Coach AL LOLOTAI also played football for Davis at Weber. He then played with an independent team in Hawaii, his home, for three years. Next he played one year of pro ball with Washington Redskins and four years with Los Angeles Dons.

Freshman Grid Coach JULIUS F. (HANS) WAGNER is a former Aggie grid and wrestling great who also doubles as Davis' defense coaching assistant. He was conference heavyweight wrestling champ in 1926 and was a rugged Aggie lineman in those days.

HEADS AGGIE ATHLETICS

Harry W. Hughes, Director of the Physical Education Department, has been with Colorado A & M College since 1911, coming here from Oklahoma University.

Thirty-one of these 39 years Hughes was head football coach and is known as the Dean of American Coaches. During that time, he coached Aggies to their only—seven—conference championships in football. He is also track coach.

Hughes was a star halfback on Oklahoma University teams of 1904-07 and coached Norman High school to the state championship in his final year.

The following year he was coach and athletic director at the state Normal in Edmond, Okla. He returned to Oklahoma U. in 1910 as assistant football and track coach in addition to being director of physical education.

Next, The Mid-Season Game

The next outing for Colorado A & M's gridiron warriors after today's BYU tilt will be the mid-season game. It will be No. 5 for the Aggies in their nine-game schedule.

Aggies meet Utah State October 28 at Logan, Utah, following a rest October 21 with no game scheduled. The Aggies will fly to Logan for the conference tilt on the other side of the hump.

Utah State isn't the "hump" which A & M can hurdle in mid-season and then be on a downhill route. The Utags admit they are fielding a large team this year and they'll be playing to the home audience.

But after Utah State look: Colorado Mines, then Utah under razzle-dazzle Coach Jack Curtice; then Arizona State at Tempe and it's all-American candidate, Whizzer White; and the finale, Colorado University.
